INSTRUCTIONS

1. Cross out 1, since it is not classified as a prime number.
2. Draw a circle around 2, the smallest prime number. Then cross out every second number after 2.
3. Draw a circle around 3, the next prime number. Then cross out every third number after 3. Some numbers will be crossed out more than once.
4. Circle the next open number, 5. Then cross out every fifth number after 5.
5. The next open number is 7. Circle 7 and then cross out every seventh number after 7.
6. Go through the grid and draw a circle around every number that has not yet been crossed out. The circled numbers are all the prime numbers between 1 and 100.

You have found a total of 25 primes between 1 and 100.

The numbers that are crossed out, with the exception of 1, are called composite numbers.

All information is accurate to the best of my knowledge. Additionally, these prime factorization worksheets will help rising 6th graders review for the upcoming school year.
